

LOVE STORY

Paris, in 1965. John and Vilma, an old couple in love, were enjoying their life and love.

They spent their evenings in a ballroom, where they used to have dinner and had fun listening to the songs of their youth, which reminded them of what they were no longer young.

REALIZADO POR: ALBA M^a RODRIGO TENA 2^oE

A New World

Then she had a new world in front of her eyes, in fact it was the first time she saw the world. After eleven years in a lockdown, she had seen the world for the first time. She was born the day the lockdown started and now she had the opportunity to get back the days she had lost her entire life...

Ricardo Manero

Liberty

Then he had a new world in front of his eyes, finally, he was free. Astonished, he started enjoying the sea. A soft breeze of the sea was stroking his face while he started to walk towards the sea. A tiny brave orange crab approached snapping its claws as a sign of threat, but the only thing he did was starting to smile.

SHORT STORIES CONTEST

Then he discovered a new world in front of his eyes, from the window of his car he could contemplate his new home, a new country, a new city, new people, a new life. He was terribly scared and alone, even this, with the pass of time he made great friends, he got the job for which he had decided to move there, everything was as he always wanted, that new world made his dreams come true.

Inés Roldán

A NORMAL WORLD

Then he discovered a new world in front of his eyes, he was in a parallel world, where there were no indifferences, no comparisons or discriminations. There he realizes all the problems in his previous world and he decides to do everything he can on his part so that what was happening before does not happen again.

Elsa Alonso

PEACE BEHIND METAL FENCES

Then she had a new world in front of her eyes; everything she had ever dreamed since she was a child. A welcoming place to live without anyone bothering you.

Freedom. Something we all search our whole lives and still don't find. Despite that reality, there she was, looking with an amazed face that wonderful world that large metal fences separated each other.

alumna de 4º Bilingüe

LAST COVID VACCINE

Then he had a new world in front his eyes, after putting on the last covid vaccine, the covid-19 was removed from the planet. He took off the mask immediately and he started to run throught the main street in the city, he was so happy. There was a lot of people but it didn't matter because there wasn't covid.

Diago Serra 1º A

